

AROUND the TOWNSHIP

All agree that Washington Township is one of the favored spots in the whole state of California as a place of residence. Water, soil, climate, sunshine, temperature, highways, schools, libraries, churches, schools, railroads all have a part in the attractions. Loath as we are to admit the fact, the Township has one serious disadvantage. There is no legitimate way to dispose of garbage. There are one or two authorized dumps—smelly and unsightly—but health authorities have been giving them recently the double O.O. and it will not be surprising if an order is issued one of these days demanding that the dumps be abated.

Having given much study to the situation, H. Lovell Scott, Niles merchant, prominent member of the chamber of commerce and a leader in all enterprises for civic betterment, declares the best way for solving the garbage problem is by way of organizing a sanitary district to include the whole township.

"The way the back roads are being used for depositing garbage is shameful," said Mr. Scott. "Already this situation has caused unfavorable comment from visitors. On Sundays the heavy traffic drives many to seek the less traveled roads, and as traffic increases the nuisance will become more and more apparent."

"We all want to avoid the expense of increased taxes. But the expense need not be heavy and there would be a compensating saving. I make no suggestion as to the best method for disposal of garbage. That is a matter for experts. But the only sensible thing to do is to start right now in the organization of a sanitary district. If the county authorities shut down on the present dumps we shall be in a pretty pickle."

"Here is a question of importance on which all the civic bodies of the township may unite. There is enough work for all. It will take study and time, but a beginning should be made without delay."

All the performers at the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce show seemed to have a wonderful time last week. The whole thing was done in only five rehearsals. Niles school kids roared with laughter when Principal E. Dixon Bristow appeared in an elegant green georgette dress and rolled stockings.

Speaking of school principals, Eph Musick at Newark had a long and interesting career as a newspaper man before he became a school man. Musick was an old-fashioned journalist of the "Fearless" type. In Crescent City he started a paper, set the type by hand, used no boiler plate and filled the sheet full of editorial comment that soon had the local bosses considering as someone to be reckoned with. He sold out at a profit, too.

We are glad to report that the publication last week of a notice of the sudden death of Farley Granger was erroneous. Mr. Granger is living at his home in Broadmoor, San Leandro, and is strong and hearty, in full possession of his physical and mental health. Two weeks ago he presided at a meeting of the Masonic lodge in Centerville. We regret the publication. The report came from an unusually reliable source, a friend of Mr. Granger, who gave the story to our reporter. Such mishaps have their humorous side. Personally we prefer not to recall the old jokes.

FILINGS WILL CLOSE SOON

NILES—Filings for the county supervisors election will close Saturday.

Supervisor Ralph Richmond reported this week that he had obtained the signatures of his sponsors and would file today or tomorrow.

Word from Pleasanton indicates that both Ernest Swain and John Amaral have been telling their friends that they both intend to run but thus far no direct news of their petitions has been received.

Politicians in Livermore are unable to report any dark horses from that area. Richmond, for the most part, has obtained the signatures of those who supported him 12 years ago when he first ran for supervisor. He declares he has no "platform other than his record in office."

Registration books will be reopened soon. Deputies who will have the books are M. L. Fournier, Niles; Mamie Roderick, Alvarado; A. E. Francis, Newark; James Collins, Newark; Manuel Lewis, Centerville; Adeline Santos, Centerville; R. J. Wright, Irvington; Joe Brown and Henry Allard, Warm Springs; Joe Rogers, Mission San Jose and J. JUNIOR CHAMBER REPORTS ON PLAY

NILES—Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce members reaped a lot of fun and $24 net profit from their play which was presented last week at the Veterans' Memorial building, committee members reported at the organization's regular meeting in the Florence restaurant Monday night.

Lawrence Pine reported on baseball activities, pointing out that the local team has lost but one game during the second half of the series. Members of the group discussed plans for refurbishing the Boy Scout headquarters and decided to send President Sam Kerns to see W. H. Ford, owner of the property, to arrange full details of the care of the house.

Dr. Herman Dyberg, Niles' new dentist, was a guest at the meeting, was was H. L. Scott, Niles business man.

NILES—Delivery of bonus bonds to World War Veterans started at all postoffices in Washington Township last Monday. Postmaster Fournier of Niles reported most of the veterans addressed here were on hand to get their bonds promptly. At Newark the postoffice was kept open in the evening to accommodate those employed during the ship. Those desiring cash simply indorse their bonds, which are returned to San Francisco where checks are issued. Most of the cash will be realized before the end of the week.

Officers of American Legion Post No. 195, Niles, have received copies of the Legionnaire, the state Legion's official paper, giving the facts about distribution of the bonus. The following is adapted from the Legionnaire's article:

Don't expect to get your money right now when your bonds are delivered.

Four things must happen before you get the cash in hand. First, the bonds must be delivered to you; second, you must certify the bonds at designated places; third, the certification officer will give you a receipt, and your bonds will go to a paying office whence your check will be mailed to you; fourth, you cash the check received the same as any other check.

If your certificates were sent to Washington, or to any Regional office outside of this Federal Reserve District, don't expect to get your bonds immediately. They will be sent from the Federal Reserve district where filed.

Bonds for all western states will clear through the San Francisco Post Office, having started last Monday, June 15.

Territory served includes California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Idaho, Utah and part of Arizona.

Now lets go down the line on the various don'ts:

You don't have to get your bonds certified and cashed at once. Checks will be issued with bonds for fractional amounts due you—amount less than $50.

Don't get peevish at slight delays or mistakes. The postal service is co-operating in every way, but remember they are called on to handle in a short space of time a great burden. Help them all you can.

Don't get irritated about the rules on identification.

Don't let a slicker try to get your bonds for you.

Don't be too sure you have the proper identification when the carrier calls.

You can't get a check cashed without identification at a bank. Neither can you get your bonds without proper identification to the mail carrier. Uncle Sam is not going to present you with a bond unless he knows you are entitled to it.

THE BONDS CANNOT BE ATTACHED OR ASSIGNED FOR DEBT, FOR AGREEMENT TO PURCHASE ANYTHING, FOR JUDGMENT HELD AGAINST YOU OR FOR AN I. O. U.

UNDER THE LAW, ABSOLUTELY NO LIEN CAN BE PLACED AGAINST YOUR BONUS BONDS.

If you were away from home on June 15 or 16, you will get your bonds in due time—if you don't stay away more than 30 days. At the expiration of that period, the bonds will be turned back to the treasury department.

If a veteran has moved since he applied for his bonds but still remains within his local post-office delivery, simply notify his postmaster; but if he moves outside his postoffice delivery district then he must send his new address IMMEDIATELY to the Veterans' administration, NOT to the Federal Reserve bank, according to an impression that has gained ground. The Federal Reserve bank merely acts as the agent of the Treasury Department in turning the bonds over to the postoffice for delivery.

For Graduation, Party and Prom

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

FRESH and young and unspoiled, the sweet girl graduate is the star of her commencement week and must be costumed daintily and lovingly as can be for her part. She must also plan for the commencement parties. Being wise, as her diploma declares her to be, she will choose a graduation frock that will be appropriate for evening wear right through the summer.

Some of the most entrancing dual-purpose frocks are of Swiss organdie. Romantic, youthful and flattering, these sterling, exquisitely sheer cottons come in endless variety. Embroidered organdies are immensely popular this year. They are patterned in versatile fashion, ranging from flowing vine and floral motifs to demure bow-knot, also novelty dot effects. Eyelet and all-over cutout embroidered patterns are delicately lacy and have an added crispness that is refreshing and cool for summer wear. Flecked Swiss organdies are fascinating, too, with chenille-like dots and geometric patterns applied in colors or white on solid grounds.

The new chic finished organdies are as sweet and dainty as the edelweiss flowers of their native land. These are so supple in finish they drape beautifully and have a soft but noticeable luster that is inherent in the material and comes back faithfully after each tubbing and pressing.

Miraculous, indeed, are the new crinkled and matelasse organdies that need only to be tubbed and then put on a hanger to dry to return to their original freshness. In solid color or in multi-color floral prints.

Graduating frocks this year are full length, with smoothly fitting skirt flaring from the knee. Because of the youth of their wearers and because the style interest is centered on the unusual fabric patterns, the frocks are always simple in line. Distinctive details are chic fly-away sleeves, always perky and crisp in organdie, a restrained use of demure ruffles, and as a rule, modest high necks.

The lovely models pictured have flaring skirts that will lift blithely to the platform at the graduation exercises and appear later on at informal dances and dinners throughout the summer. Slim sheathes of taffeta make a sleek foundation with an elegant whisper of silk. Taffeta is also being used in a revival of the traditional sash with butterfly bow and long ends as instanced in the youthful frock of eyelet embroidered Swiss organdie to the right in the trio.

Just as the tradition of white for brides is no longer uniformly observed, pastel colors or touches of color on white have become as correct for graduation as all-white. Wherefore, the flower-like maiden pictured to the left will go tripping demurely up the aisle in a sprig-embroidered organdie. The brief bolero jacket has fly-away, pleated shoulder-widening sleeves to enhance its chic and its charm.

Of course you have fallen in love at first sight with the beguiling dress, centered in the picture. Everybody does. A discreet and artful use of ruffles adds to the quaint but very modish air of this summery frock which is fashioned of pin-dotted Swiss organdie. The red grosgrain ribbon tie at the throat and a red grosgrain belt match the color of the fabric dots.

IT'S THE LATEST

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Here is a coat and dress that is a last-minute arrival, so new that its newness almost startles. It has that modish broad shoulder line which is essential if you would be up and going in fashion. Great emphasis is given to color alliance in this model by Creed. The dress has a front of green, brown and red madras. The three-quarter length coat is made of beige and brown wool as is also the dress. The coat fastens with a wide chambray gray belt. The hat is gray felt.

Obi Sash

A black satin obi sash printed with large white birds is an interesting accessory to a black or white evening gown.

STRIKING BUTTONS ADD BRIGHT TOUCH

Many striking ideas are being developed in the button line. For sport blouses, a clever manufacturer uses numbers to replace ordinary buttons down the front. These, ranging from one to nine, are of plastic material, sometimes in bright color to form a contrasting effect against the blouse fabric or else in imitation ivory, tortoise shell or delicate, pale amber.

The signs of the Zodiac also have been a source of inspiration for button designers and have been used with great originality by leading dressmakers for summer afternoon or beach dresses. The Chinese inspiration has been responsible for one style showing Chinese script engraved over mother-of-pearl discs or plastic plaquettes in lacquer red.

Canine Heads Are Used to Trim Various Accessories

The feminine population of Paris has gone dog minded and canine heads trim everything from sports scarves and handkerchiefs to belt fastenings. Wire-haired terriers and Scotties remain popular favorites and their heads, in black and white composition material, make decorative belt buckles which match smaller editions used as buttons.

Pairs of wire-haired terriers and Scotties are suspended on leather chains from leather bracelets and are matched by fobs worn in the lapel of a spring sports suit. These fobs are made like dog leashes with the dogs attached to braided, colored leather chains.

HE: There's the heart of the whole refrigerator. The air conditioning compartment. SHE: Plenty of ice there, too, for any party!

HE: Frozen desserts in 45 minutes! SHE: Umm! Home-made ice cream, sherbet, frozen salads.

SHE: Feel that fresh, icy breeze! HE: It's the stream of conditioned air that keeps foods fresh and tasty.

HE: Families who give me these back door keys get "automatic" ice service—always the right amount of ice for perfect refrigeration at the lowest cost.

SHE: What, no drip pan? HE: No, indeed. The new ice refrigerators connect with the house drain.

LANDON BY ACCLAMATION

How refreshing to contemplate the Republican standard bearers, Governor Alfred M. Landon and Colonel Frank Knox, in contrast with what we now have in Washington. They will restore public confidence. The unanimous choice of the convention, the nominees reflect the view that the nation is at the crossroads—that re-election of Roosevelt would spell the end of the democratic form of government in the United States, a lapse into some species of European fascist or communist dictatorship.

In his masterly address before the convention, Herbert Hoover said the fight is not for the Republican party, but to save America.

The convention was manifestly resolved to forget party rivalries; to search for a candidate and a platform that would best express the desire of a vast section of the people to return to sanity and an end to the wild excesses that have marked the last three years. The unanimity with which the result was achieved proved the convention was in deadly earnest. Senator Borah, whom many would have preferred, and whom others expected to jump the traces, has wholeheartedly indorsed to ticket and platform.

Landon's nomination is said to have been the result of an irresistible accumulation of public favor. His record as governor of Kansas is outstanding in that he cut expenditures, balanced the budget and actually reduced taxes in a period when the trend of government elsewhere—national, state, municipal—was in the direction of more spending, of padding the public payrolls.

Colonel Knox is a vigorous fighter, a broad gauged executive, a successful publisher. He will add force to the campaign.

In his telegram following his nomination, Landon spoke out for a constitutional amendment that would stop exploitation of labor of women and children by selfish employers. He declared for a sound currency backed by gold. Landon is for abolishing the spoils system which Farley has brought to such shameful perfection at enormous public expense.

The ticket may be expected to draw millions of votes
of Democrats to whom the traditions of Jefferson, of Jackson, of Cleveland, are still living principles; to whom the present socialist government is anathema.

If Landon and Knox are elected we shall see the greatest surge in business and re-employment in the nation's history—
a forward movement in which the false promises, wild experimentation and unbridled extravagance of the present administration will be speedily ended—but, alas, not soon forgotten.
Debts must be paid.

DON'T SPEND ALL YOUR BONUS

"Save some of it," is the wise counsel of the Bank of Alameda County, directed to veterans who are about to receive their bonus. There is always a temptation to cut loose and spend when a sum of money is received after a long period of stringency. Not all the veterans are hard up, of course, but a majority of them haven't seen any too much money 'or several years past, and not a few have been right on the ragged edge.

The late James J. Hill, known as the "empire builder," said one infallible test of whether a man would be successful was his ability to save money. These last half a dozen years have offered no fair criterion, because thousands have not received enough income, but now each of the veterans is to receive a sizable sum, and will have the opportunity to demonstrate the advantages of self denial.

In an old common school song book, current half a century ago, was a song hymning the virtues of thrift. Here is the chorus:

"Be careful of your money, boys,
Be careful of your money.
You'll find it true
That friends are few
When you are short of money."

The bonus bonds are now being distributed to veterans.

VETERANS-- Save Some of It

It is hard to resist the temptation to "cut loose"
when a considerable sum of money comes suddenly to hand.

But to resist is the more prudent way . . . and pays most in the long run.

No sensible person . . . no one possessing common kindness and tolerance . . . would urge you to forego the purchase of a few luxuries or to miss the thrill of a little interlude of showing yourself
a good time. We urge no such Spartan resistance to a natural impulse.

But we do urge you to refrain from sending it all.

A fair portion of your money . . . some of the bonds with which you are paid . . . if put safely away, will provide a competence of great value to you and yours in later years.

'MARIHUANA' TO BE FEATURED AT NILES THEATER

"Marihuana," announced by Manager William Helm as an expose of certain types of current drug traffic, will be shown tomorrow (Friday) at the Niles theater. Helm declares the picture to be educational in that,
while fictional as to plot, it gives an acute picture of the effects and widespread use of the weed
in America.

Marihuana is known scientifically as cannibis Americana. It is a species of hemp which grows wild in the American southwest and can be cultivated almost anywhere on the Pacific coast.

It is a close relative of cannibis Indica, famous in the far east and in Dumas' "Count of Monte Crio-to" as hasheesh.

Most users of Marihuana smoke
it. Medical and pharmaceutical authorities differ as to its precise effects on the human body. It is said to act as an aphrodisiac and to cause its users to develop laughing jags.

Authorities agree that continued use destroys the mental faculties.

Owing to the fact that it is easily grown, its use has increased in California, Washington and Oregon in recent years. Authorities find it difficult to stamp out the use of the drug by poor people and the number of youths
now using it is said to be of alarming proportion.

It is this phase of the traffic
that the picture at the Niles theater portrays.

On Sunday and Monday, theatergoers will be dodging in their seats and the result of use of the audioscope pictures, says Helm.

The audiences will be furnished glasses which give a stereoscopic effect to the motion pictures and make the shadows on the screen assume a third dimension. Hillarity is the rule at all performances.

Cash nights, Wednesday and Saturday.

PATTERN 1152

Dark and light lilacs, tied with a flourish into the loveliest of floral sprays, is far and away the nicest—and easiest—flowery touch one can give a bedroom. Even an amateur will find the large spray easy to embroder on a bedspread with four smaller sprays on the bolster, or scarf ends. The flowers are entirely formed of lazy-daisy stitch and French knots, the leaves of blanket stitch—the rest is in outline. With cotton or rayon floss the designs are seemingly done in no time, in shades of lilac, orchid, or palest yellow.

Pattern 1152 comes to you with a transfer pattern of a motif 18 by 21 inches and two reverse motifs 4 by 5 1/2 inches. Color suggestions; illustrations of all stitches needed; material requirements.
